

About Common Ground

Developing relevant partnerships begins with common ground — and you.

At Datamax, we don't believe in assumptions. Only through thoughtful consultation and actively listening to the challenges churches face and the goals they've established, can we even begin to help create partnerships of real value and results they ultimately expect.

But it isn't about us. Rather, we want to learn from you. That's why Datamax is opening its doors to area church organizations to share, to learn and to gain valuable insight found only from someone who's walked a mile in your shoes.

Our Common Ground Lunch & Learn Series, held inside the Datamax facilities, offers an open forum on specific topics relevant to your church organization and your professional community.
